DETAILED ACTION

Restrictions

[01] Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

[01a] I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method for calibrating a remote viewing device, classified in class 600, subclass 149.

[01b] II. Claims 15-31, drawn to a remote viewing device, classified in class 600, subclass 146.

[02] Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the remote viewing device of group II may be used for a materially different process, such as remotely viewing a surgical location.

[03] A serious burden to the examiner exists in that the method of calibration in group I is applicable to any instrument comprising a flexible tube.

Election of Species

[04] This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of mounting and adjustment system:

[04a] The mounting and adjustment system 100 of Figure 2A.

[04d] Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

[05] Additionally, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of recalibration caps:

[05a] The recalibration cap 200a of Figure 3C.

[05b] The recalibration cap 200b of Figure 3D.

[05c] Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

- [06] Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
- [07] Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
